Christie's "Ten Little Indians" Tomorrow Nite

Ruthe Williams, Dick Olson to Play Leads in Masque Production

Highlighting Saturday evening festivities during this gala '49-er weekend will be—MURDER! No reason for those cold shivers, however, as it's all for a good cause. The occasion is the MASQUE'S presentation of Agatha Christie's three act mystery thriller "The Ten Little Indians." The total net proceeds from the production will be given to the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund to be used in the war against Cancer.

The plot is woven around the famous nursery rhyme, which tells how "Ten Little Indians" each met their fate. The scene is a weird country house on a small island off the coast of Devon. To this strange residence eight assorted guests are invited by a mysterious host. While the guests are assembled for cocktails, a voice comes out of the air and accuses everyone present of murder—the kind of murder for

Fair Dames to Warble With Engineers

Becker Junior College and the Worcester Tech Glee Club will again get together to put on a concert Sunday evening, May 2. As usual each glee club will sing selections separately and then a number of selections combined.

The Worcester Tech Octet, which made such a hit at Colby Junior College in New Hampshire a few weeks ago with their version of "Who's That Knocking at My Door" will also sing a few selections.

Bob Drew, the popular bass of Worcester Tech, and Anne Brown, talented soprano of Becker Junior College, will be soloists on the program.

The special event of the evening will be the Semi-Chorus composed of 12 fellows and 12 girls which will sing Brahms' Leibeslieder (Love Songs).

The concert will take place in Horticultural Hall on the corner of Elm and Chestnut Streets at 8:30. The price of admission is free and everyone is invited to attend.

Found: Tech Department Head In Confines of Boynton Tower

This week we have reached behind the musty molding of hallowed Boynton Hall and come out with—of all things—another faculty member. The beloved Professor Aloysius Victor Heppleworth, Jr., Head of the Department-for-the-Betterment-of-Student-and-Faculty-Relations, has stepped forth from his cubbyhole in Boynton Tower and has revealed himself in the lime-light of student acclaim. Prof. Heppleworth has been a member of the Tech faculty since the school's founding, and it is hinted that his department was organized only because of John Boynton's sympathetic nature. As the story goes, Prof. Heppleworth then was a blacksmith, and as such, bought our Tin Peddler's first wares in this area. Out of sheer gratitude, our founder organized the Department-for-the-etc. and placed the village smithy at its head. This was the beginning of the traditional ironmen of Worcester Tech.

Though John B. proved his loyalty to his friends by placing "Heppy" on the faculty, his New England thriftiness overshadowed his kindly nature, and no funds were provided for Heppy's department. Since there was no mention in the school charter of the Department-for-the-Betterment-of-Student-and-Faculty-Relations, the trustees, true to form, have since failed to appropriate funds for Heppy. And so,

Heppy has hidden among the workings of Boynton Tower's clock.

Heppy has long been a lover of the great out-doors, and in years gone by, he found relaxation and enjoyment in stealing buggy whips from his fellow faculty members. But the days of horses and whips have faded—except of course the whips wielded in classes—and Heppy looked to new fields of relaxation. With the coming of automobiles and illegal parking, Heppy sortied forth anew on his pilfering expeditions. Now on the crumbling walls of Boynton Tower the decaying buggy whips are being crowded by Benny's little white parking tickets. Many a shame-faced student has vainly attempted to dissuade the powers-that-be that he never received that ticket, and Heppy has smiled knowingly. The faculty runs true to form once more.

As the dusk and dust gather on Boynton Hill, the slight, stooped form of Heppy can be seen to creep cautiously down the grassy slopes toward Institute Park. Weary but happy, "our Heppy" drags his frame toward a secluded, sagging bench, carefully removes his shoes, tie, and socks, caressingly strokes his slipstick with his splinter-filled fingers, and wheezes off into the land of buggy whips and little white cards. Sleep well, old boy, for better days are at hand.

*Big Array of Goldiggers Invade Tech Campus for '49ers Formal

Buddy Moreno and His Band in Charge As Big Weekend Begins

With the biggest array of gold-diggers yet seen on the campus, the '49-ers Junior Prom has occasioned gaiety and sweet music, even now echoing through the rafters of the ordinarily staid Alden Memorial. Serious young engineers have laid aside their numerous troubles, cares and worries to show the world that they have a brighter side than that usually represented in classes and lecture halls. The cream of the country's young womanhood is receiving an unprecedented amount of attention from eager young swains now, and the picture is one of sartorial splendor.

BUDDY MORENO

What a change has come over the campus since the news was released that women were coming. The mad scramble to the formal shops, and the mirror bright shine on all those shoes are evidences of the enthusiasm which has been shown over this weekend. However the big night has arrived and we're here to make the most of it; at least until the alarm clock jangles us out of dreams of romance in time for eight o'clock classes. Tonight the motif is "Let's Dance," and could we ask for any better incentive than the smooth orchestrations supplied by Buddy Moreno and his musicians? When you hear the voice of love cooing in your ears, do you find it difficult to remember that those words echoing your thoughts are falling from the lips of Perry Mitchell and Buddy Moreno? Dream on, and let the music do the rest.

This night is ours. The faculty is represented as our guests tonight; you met them as you entered the hall: Professor and Mrs. R. N. Cobb, Professor and Mrs. E. D. Phelps, Professor and Mrs. R. W. Pritchard and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. McNulty. Tomorrow will again be theirs, but tonight make the most of a good thing, and let tomorrow take care of itself.

Ruthe Williams and Dick Olson go over their parts with Director Rugg for the Masque play "Ten Little Indians."

Editorial

Once again Tech men lay aside their slide rules and Mollier charts, handbooks and reports, to begin a week-end of fun, frolic, happiness and gaiety. Tonight's formal dance in Alden Memorial Auditorium is the main event on the social calendar, and will be followed by tomorrow's baseball game with Tufts, the Masque production of "The Ten Little Indians", and round robin Fraternity dancing.

Such events as these, of course, are a welcome respite to relieve the monotonous grind of an engineering curriculum. The Junior Prom committee has done a commendable job in organizing the Formal Dance which highlights the Big Week-end.

The young ladies, too, will enjoy the festivities and we wish to welcome them all to the Tech campus. We hope that their stay here will be replete with pleasure and happiness and that they will carry away fond memories of their week-end at Worcester Tech.

Correction—

In the last issue of the TECH NEWS the names of two men were inadvertently omitted from the list of men who were tapped for Skull. The members of the staff wish to apologize for the oversight and to make amends herewith. These men tapped are:

Howie Green, who hails from Worcester, was secretary of his freshman class and was awarded the Skull Trophy as the outstanding freshman of that year. He played football and tennis in his Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior years and has been elected co-captain of the football team for next year.

Steve Uchich who comes from Hartford, Conn., was president of the class of '49C when a Freshman, Tech Council representative in his Sophomore year, played basketball and baseball in his Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior years and has been elected captain of the basketball team for next season. Steve was awarded the Jack Dempsey Trophy in his Sophomore year and is a member of the A. S. M. E.

"Nuts to the books. The heck with this stuff. Hey, Joe, why not use my eco book for that missing step on the back porch? Wonder what a flunk'll do to me in thermo."

"The same thing it did last year."

"Aw, who cares. So long, slipstick; see you tomorrow. My sunshine's due on the 5:15."

Yes, on the weekend of April 30, Boynton Hill will once again be the scene of the classic struggle between beauty and the books. The outcome is not too much in doubt at Lambda Chi, for it is rumored, strictly on the Q.T., that several pin-hangings will occur against the background of soft lights and sweet music. Bill Carpenter of Theta Chi couldn't wait; didn't need to. Who needs background with a gal like Audrey, eh, Bill?

Phi Sig. and A.T.O. are planning buffet suppers for Friday evening before the prom. S.P.E. will hold a class A banquet.

After breezing through a few Saturday morning classes and whipping off an exam here and there, Lambda Chi will take off for a banquet at Purgatory Chasm. After exams even Purgatory looks good. S.P.E. is all set to feed the face at Spencer after the baseball game. A. E. Pi will hold a big feed right in its own back yard to christen the new barbecue oven. Kinda rough on the teeth if the cement is still wet.

Phi Sig., A. T. O., S.P.E., and Theta Chi will hold banquets before attending the Masque production. Don't forget to stop at S.A.E. when you make your rounds afterward. There'll be music in the flesh, with a four piece band playing your requests. Many moons have passed since this has been done on the Hill. A.T.O. promises competition with some of the most spectacular decorative effects ever seen around these parts. Hope someone knows how to use a fire extinguisher. C'mon over to A. E. Pi and see the new house. Still not satisfied, Phi Sig. has scheduled a picnic for Sunday afternoon.

Just for the record, several Colby femmes are attending the formal as a result of the concert, April 24. What a record! They can sing, too. Worcester chapter of Theta Kappa Phi walked off with the trophy of the annual regional T.K.P. sports festival held here April 24. A. E. Pi took the basketball championship at the New England regional conclave held in Boston, as well as taking top honors in the interfraternity competition. Phi Gam. copped the I.F. swimming title.

Have a good time, everybody.

Tau Beta Pi Elects Three Seniors and Ten Juniors

The society of Tau Beta Pi was founded at Lehigh University in 1885 for the avowed purpose of recognizing the achievements of outstanding undergraduate engineering students. A quarter of a century later, in 1910, the Worcester Tech chapter, alpha of Massachusetts, was founded and has developed into one of the best recognized organizations on the Hill. Of the many honors one can aspire to while a student at Worcester Tech, election to Tau Beta Pi has long been recognized as one of the highest an undergraduate can achieve. The selection of members is on the basis of distinguished scholarship together with exemplary character and interest in campus activities.

Elections of new members are held twice a year by the local chapter, one election taking place in the early fall and the other in the spring. Those eligible for membership are limited to seniors scholastically in the upper fourth and juniors in the upper eighth of their respective classes. In the current spring elections, three seniors and ten juniors have been honored by election to this society. The seniors, together with their courses of study are: Robert H. Shaw, M.E.; Myron E. Luchik, Civil E.; and James M. Mullarkey, Civil E. The juniors honored are: Franklin P. Emerson,

Pops Concert Will Be Held May 15 in Alden Memorial

On the evening of May 15 the Tech Band will sponsor a Pops Concert and dance in Alden Memorial Auditorium. The Band, under the direction of Mr. William Lynch, will present a program of semi-classical and popular music. Among the selections to be presented are Poet and Peasant by Von Suppe, March Slav by Tschaiakowsky and a band arrangement of George Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue. The program will also include band arrangements of popular swing music. The evening's entertainment will be highlighted by two guest soloists, Kathleen Tyrrell and our own Frank Holby.

Miss Tyrrell, a young, talented, attractive soprano, is a native of Webster; she was graduated from Lowell Teachers College and is now superintendent of music in the schools of Shrewsbury. Miss Tyrrell will sing a selection from "Showboat" and One Kiss by Victor Herbert.

Frank Holby, a senior E.E., is perhaps better known on the Hill for his swimming and track abilities. Mr. Holby will sing that ever-popular Begin the Beguine by Cole Porter.

Also featured in the evening's entertainment will be a trombone solo by Roger Anderson. His selection will be Thoughts of Love by Arthur Pryor.

ON AND OFF THE RECORD

By JACK SAUNIER

Welcome, mates 'n dates—drop in and look over some of the recent releases from the waxworks with us; there'll be a little bit of everything from Beecham to Butterfield and from the sublime to the Red-Inglesous.

Indeed, it was a good day when Doris Day went out on her own. Her latest little gem, abetted by Buddy Clark, is Love Somebody, and is just about as cute a number as the bobby-soxers could drool for,—a cinch smash hit on the jukes. Doris has the stuff for success as a single,—warmth, intimacy and the light touch, much of which she learned from King Cole, as her best record ever (Christmas Song, with Les Brown) clearly indicates.

Speaking of the King, Nat does some superb singing on Nature Boy, backed by the same peerless Frank DeVol arranging that has made memorable so many records by Capitol's stable of vocalists. Not far behind DeVol is Paul Weston, who arranges and batons for the same label; he takes the Starlighters vocal group through a scintillating score of the perennial Poinciana, all the way from concert style to light pop. Still on Capitol, there's Billy Butterfield's tastefully nostalgic treatment of Bunny Berigan's immortal I Can't Get Started, and the irrepressible Red Ingle's preachment on Cigarettes, Whiskey, and Wild, Wild Women.

Note how much the trend is toward vocal records,—very few good band biscuits, outside of Kenton, and at that his best to date with the new band is June Christy's vocal on Soothe Me. We await the new Kenton album with the proverbial bated breath; it has some marvelous scoring in it, but if it isn't much better recorded than Thermopylae was we'll be disappointed.

Sinatra, with some decent material for a change, shows he's that much better than the rest, particularly with a small jazz group for background, with his current I've Got a Crush on You, featuring a fine cornet. Sarah Vaughan gives the same tune the distinctive treatment that made her the top jazz vocalist (cf. Metronome and Downbeat) of the year. Showing she's not limited to jazz, Sarah has recorded The Lord's Prayer, a rich, warm, very sincere solo that does justice to the moving music.

Now that Sir Thomas Beecham is with RCA Victor, that company is finally putting out some music by Frederick Delius that was heretofore available only on the Columbia Blue label, which is #000 sandpaper. Best to date is a fine version of Brigg Fair, which Sir Thomas conducts in a somewhat more definitive manner than he did on the Columbia release. It's exquisite mood music by England's best romanticist.

The feminine lead will be played by Ruthe M. Williams, who turned in sparkling performances in the MASQUE'S two most recent productions, "Whistling in the Dark" and "The Male Animal." Dick Olson, of Worcester, a junior E. E., will play the male lead. Polly Claiborne of North Carolina and Lois Long, formerly with the Maine Dramatic Club but now affiliated with the Y. W. C. A., are playing supporting roles. The remainder of the cast includes Roger Staples, Holden; Henry Richards, Westboro; Owen Ott, Tenafly, N. New Sigma Xi Initiates Are Announced

The Worcester Tech Chapter of Sigma Xi will have their annual initiation meeting on Monday May 17, 1948. Sigma Xi, which is a national honorary fraternity, selects at this time every year students in the senior class that have shown outstanding qualities along the lines of scientific research. The members are divided into two classes, associate and full members. This year eight seniors have proved themselves as worthy candidates to this highly recognized and respected fraternity. They are Kenneth G. Cooke, Carlton A. Lane, Myron E. Lunchick, Arthur L. Pike, Richard L. Tracy, Wayne A. Shafer, Robert H. Shaw and Wilfred J. Wachter. These men are to be congratulated for having attained one of the highest distinctions in the collegiate world. Along with the announcement of the new associate members there were several graduate students and one member of the faculty and one alumnus that were elected to full membership. The graduate student list consisted of Edwin G. Baldwin of the E. E. Dept., Owen W. Kennedy, Jr. of the E.E. Dept., and Douglas G. Noiles of the M.E. Dept. The faculty member elected to full membership was Prof. D. G. Downing of the M.E. Dept. Manuel J. Queijo, an alumnus of Worcester Tech, presently employed at the Langley Memorial Aeronautical Laboratories at Langley Field, Virginia was also elected to full membership.

News-worthy Notes for Engineers

Cable at the "Cross Roads" →

This "Cross Roads" guide plate through which pulp-insulated wires are rushing, keeps the wires in their proper relative position while being twisted into units of 101 pairs before being fashioned into a telephone cable. The wires passing through the guide plate to the flyer strander are kept at a uniform tension by means of a torque motor and a very sensitive control device at each of the 101 supply reels. Designed by Western Electric engineers, this mechanism prevents defects by keeping the wires from being stretched as they move along.

← "Merry-go-round" speeds telephone dial governors

Most production lines in Western Electric plants follow standard practices, but often it is advantageous to custom-tailor an assembly line to do a specific job better. To control the mass production of delicate telephone dial governors to exacting standards, Western Electric engineers designed this "merry-go-round" conveyor with its ingenious assembly fixtures. It both simplifies the operation and reduces the time of assembly.

Engineering problems are many and varied at Western Electric, where manufacturing telephone and radio apparatus for the Bell System is the primary job. Engineers of many kinds—electrical, mechanical, industrial, chemical, metallurgical—are constantly working to devise and improve machines and processes for mass production of highest quality communications equipment.

SPORTS BEFORE MY EYES

By Mr. "X"

When informed that the subject of my next assignment was to be "women", I admit that I was a bit put out in that I had never heard of the game before, even with all my experience in the field of sports. Undaunted I immediately set out to investigate the matter and arrived at the following conclusions:

The name of the game originates with the goal or object of the game and is called oddly enough "women." The goal is often given other names such as "slick chic", "the Body", etc., depending on its qualities, and those of extremely poor quality are often referred to in the vernacular as "Beasts". The type and grade of goal used in the game is dependent upon the player. The better and more experienced the player is at the game the higher is the quality of the goal used. The history of the "sport" dates back to the beginning of time when the rules and regulations were much more simple than they are at the present time. Despite the complexities of present day rules, however, the object remains the same, to get possession of a woman.

A more apt description of the game can be given by saying that it is a combination of many other games of sport. At the outset it is quite similar to hunting although it oft develops that the hunted becomes the hunter. A likely prospect must be carefully selected according to predetermined curves, tracked down, and finally trapped. (That word worries me). Once this is accomplished the game changes character and becomes similar to football in the Southern Conference in which passes are made at the goal. After four passes fail (fall incomplete) the player may continue or direct his passes at a new goal which he feels will be more accessible. A little baseball ability is a great help at this stage of the game for if the player can make a hit with the "woman" he will find it much easier to complete his passes.

After several successful passes, the player must go into a wrestling routine for which rules and regulations vary greatly. A fall is registered by landing a kiss which must last at least five seconds. Three falls comprise a match but as many matches as are desired may be attempted. Matches as in wrestling are usually staged in semi-darkness; but by no means should a strong spot-light be used nor should tickets be sold.

As in tennis one of the scores is love. Contrary, however, to tennis this is not a detriment but one of great merit.

Golf Team Prepares for Tough Schedule; Clip Hellig To Lead Tech Excavators

There is some doubt as to whether golf originated on the shores of Scotland by a shepherd with a hand-carved club and a round stone or on the frozen canals of Holland. But whatever its' origin, the game of "kolf", as known to Dutchmen, has gained a tremendous hold on the imagination of the sport-loving American public.

With the appearance of the first robin and the first crocus, millions of golfers polish-up their pet irons and take practice swings at harmless tufts of grass. Perhaps they add a new club to cure the slice that drove five straight into the beckoning woods or the ever-present brook. Behind closed doors Green Committees plan where to put that new sand trap to cause the poor duffer the maximum of mental torture. Yes indeed, golf is in the air.

As in the spring a young man's fancies turn toward—golf, it is not too much of a shock to see the diminutive white sphere floating through the thick, murky air which engulfs the Tech campus. Through the auspices of "Doc" Carpenter five games have been scheduled for the turf-wreckers.

Leading the team through this tough schedule is captain "Clip" Hellig, who can hit a score of 200 or better without half trying.

Schedule:

April 30—Devens, here
May 7—Boston U., away
May 13—Wesleyan, away
May 17—Brown, away
May 19—Tufts, here

By TIM THE TROUT

Well, the great day is at hand. Tomorrow afternoon the pick of the nation's three-year-olds will face the starting barrier in the 74th running of the Kentucky Derby. And so, Guys and Gals, let us pause tomorrow afternoon during the Tech-Tufts set to. Let us pause and face Louisville. Let us pause, raise a mint julep on high, and drink a toast to Colonel Matt Winn. We certainly owe the good Colonel something for his co-operation, for it was he and he alone who decided to hold the Derby in conjunction with the "Forty-Niner's" Junior Prom.

For a time, Colonel Winn was toying with the idea of changing the name of his race to "The Forty-Niner's" Derby, The Nugget Stakes or The Gold Rush Cup. This would of course bring added prestige to the event. After all the Sour Doughs and their Sour Dames had been groveling for gold, in the hills of California, for a quarter of a century when Aristides won the first "Run for the Roses" back in 1875. However, although the Derby is a relative newcomer, the Class of '49 decided that it has achieved some small measure of fame and they were successful in urging Colonel Winn to stick to the old name. After all, every true son of the bluegrass has tears in his eyes when the band plays "My Old Kentucky Home". Could the same happen with "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" or even "California Here I Come".

With this vital matter of a title settled, nothing remains but the anti-climactic matter of the "horse-race". Everyone knows that "horse-sense" is the quality that horses have which keeps them from betting on track meets. However the high and mighty homo-sapien lacks this instinct, and seeks to desecrate this magnificent, breed-improving, exhibition of horseflesh.

For those who like quantity, we can only say, "Two horses should be better than one". If you place your shekels on the Calumet entry of Citation and Coaltown, you get two horses and two very good horses at that. Second choice in the betting will probably go to My Request, son of Requested, who won the Wood Memorial at Jamaica, a week ago. Others in the small derby field include W. L. Brann's Escadru and R. W. McIlvain's Billings.

How do we pick 'em? Well, good sense would seem to say the Calumet entry, with Eddie Arcaro up on Citation and gunning for his fourth Derby triumph. But, good sense has never counted for much in a horse race so out on a limb we go and pick Escadru.

SPE, PGD and TKP Also Among the Top Four

Leonard PSK, Lovell PGD, Reid PSK, Barna TKP, Are Top Point-Getters As Huge Crowd Watches Annual I. F. Meet

By GERRY ATKINSON

One of the highlights of the intense inter-fraternity competition occurred this past week. The time was the afternoons of April 22-23. The place was the athletic field. The event was the Interfraternity Track Meet. When the track dust had settled and the results were known, it was the tape-breakers of PSK who wore the laurel wreaths of victory. The Phi Sigs burned up the cinder paths to amass 47 5/6 points for the title. SPE captured second honors with 31 1/3 points, while PGD and TKP finished third and fourth with 29 1/2 and 12 1/3 points respectively. Farther down on the tally sheet were SAE 6, TX 5, LXA and AEP 4, and ATO 3.

In addition, the victors had the distinction of scoring in every event. PSK's top man was freshman Kirk Leonard, who was also high point scorer of the meet with 15 points. Kirk took blue ribbons in the high jump, shot put, and discus throw. Another Phi Sig, standout was varsity candidate Jack Reid, who piled up 11 points by firsts in the grueling mile and two mile runs and a fourth in the 880. Hugh Lovell staged a one-man show in sparking PGD's chances with 14 points, winning both low and high hurdles and scoring in the pole vault and high jump. Another "iron man" was George Barna of TKP, whose broad jump of 19 feet 10 3/4 inches climaxed a 9 1/3 point performance. Other luminaries in the meet were Griggs and Holby PGD, Anderson and Besselièvre SPE, and Dewire TX.

Several conclusions can be drawn after observing the meet and examining the results. One is the obvious popularity of interfraternity track. Favored by sunny skies, the meet drew a laudable number of spectators, who soon warmed to the spirit of rivalry and cheered their favorites home. Of importance is the fact that a winning team must place a strong entry in the field events. The combination of Reid on was a paramount factor in PSK's success. But the most striking conclusion of all was the importance of a spirited turnout in all the fraternities for the house team. If a team enters their full complement of men, the greater their chances of victory. If a spirit of wholesome rivalry continues, all indications point to an even more popular and hotly contested meet in 1949.

Tech Sailors Place Sixth In N. E. Championship

By LAWSON HILL

The Nautical Association continues to carry the WPI banner in the inter-collegiate yacht racing competition. After having been so successful at Brown and then again at MIT, the Tech crews are just now getting a taste of defeat. On April 18th Worcester Tech skippers were beaten out by Brown, Trinity, and Middlebury in that order to take fourth place.

On the following weekend our sailors were up against stiff competition at the Elimination "A" of the New England Championship held at MIT. Favored in the event by the Inter-Collegiate Yacht Racing Association, John Beckwith, with his brother Walter as crew, and Herb Cahoon, with John Peirce crewing, went to meet the challenge. At the Elimination Regatta eight races for each of two crews, making sixteen in all, were held. The races started out well with Tech holding second place after the first pair of races. After that their luck began to slip. Northeastern, beaten by WPI with a solid margin in the hexagonal regatta at Brown on Easter Sunday, came up with a man who won seven out of eight races. Two disqualifications were ruled against the Tech skippers, to virtually put them out of the competition. These two unfortunate incidents gave us sixth place with the official scoring as follows: Northeastern 112, Boston University 105, Boston College 99, Holy Cross 97, Trinity 85, Worcester Tech 79, Tufts 71, and the University of New Hampshire 46. Failing to qualify in the first four, Worcester Tech will sail a consolation race against lesser competition.

Notices

There will be a special faculty meeting in the Azure room of the Blue Marlin during intermission of the Junior Prom.

Close Race Foreseen As I. F. Softball Opens May 3

TKP - ATO and SPE - PSK In Opening Games; SPE And PGD Co-Favorites

By MAL HORTON

Monday, May 3, the Interfraternity softball league goes into action when ATO meets TKP and SPE meets PSK. Last year's exciting race ended in a three way tie between PGD, TX, and SPE. The suspense was held right up to the last moment. In the bottom half of the last inning of the second play-off game, SPE rallied to beat Phi Gam and win the softball trophy. This victory also decided who would get the Athletic Trophy for the year.

This season looks as though it should bring us another close race. Last year's champs, Sig Ep, will have their big stick, Norris, back, although they have lost their pitcher Struntz to the baseball team. Phi Gam will field essentially the same team, but they, too, are looking for a new pitcher. Jaegle, their pitcher, one of the best in the league, graduated last year. Theta Chi will be right back in the thick of it, spark-plugged by Kenny Mucino. Phi Sig, who finished fourth last year, will field the same club and will be hard to beat. The other squads, TKP, SAE, AEP, and ATO, will remain unknowns until after the season commences. All the teams will be strengthened by the new freshmen who have turned out outstanding performances in all interfraternity sports this year. It would not be at all surprising to see a couple of freshmen turn the league upside down and bring one of last year's bottom clubs right up to the top.

TENNIS TEAM PREPARES FOR M. I. T. MATCH

The Tech netmen began unlimbering for a seven-match season last week, under the guidance of Prof. Bill Wadsworth, who is replacing Paul Stagg as coach of the racket wielders.

Veterans returning from last year's team are the ever-dependable Buddy Dember and Howie Green, plus Neil Fishman and Harvey Fishburn. The loss of Dave Hopkins through transfer and Harvey Bressler through graduation have hurt the Engineers' hopes for a successful season, but a few racquetters from the class of '51 have shown promise of holding their own in intercollegiate competition.

The first match of the season is scheduled for May first, against M.I.T., on the Cambridge courts.
