

Tutorial: How to record a video on phone

Overview:

Sometimes the availability of technology is sparse but those with a cell phone with a camera still are able to create classroom content at the click of a button. Cell phones allow you to have a camera right in your hand at all times, this tutorial will cover how to record a video on your phone and retrieve the file.

How to record a video:

1. Unlock your phone and open your phone's camera application.
2. Switch your camera's mode to video recording
3. Press the red record button in the middle of the screen and your video will begin recording.
4. Press the same red button to stop the video when you are done.

How to retrieve the video:

1. Plug your phone into your computer through a usb charging cable.
2. Go into the file explorer on your computer and select your phone from the "This PC" menu from the devices and drives area.
3. Inside your phone's directory look for the camera folder.
4. Inside the camera folder with many phones look for the DCIM folder and your video file should be in there.
