

School Builds People Place

Judy Guttormsen and Mai Skoglund, students at Alameda Senior High School, presented plans for a People Place project being undertaken at the school to the Chamber's Environmental Action Task Force on April 20.

The People Place will be a landscaped courtyard adjacent to the school. It is being developed by the school's Citizen Action Lab, a community-school problem solving group.

Several area organizations and agencies have donated materials and money for the project, including gravel, benches, shrubbery, and trees. Many Chamber members are among initial donors. Many more trees and shrubs, plus flagstone and gravel are needed to complete the project.

Any Chamber members interested in helping with the People Place project are encouraged to call the Chamber office to find out what is still needed.

These students are to be congratulated for their efforts to beautify their own surroundings and their community. There may be a lesson here for the Lakewood business community.

Board Adds 2 Directors

Mrs. Fran Yehle and Duane Pearsall have been appointed to fill two vacancies on the Chamber Board of Directors. The vacancies were created by the resignation of Dr. Joe Bailey and Ted Mueller. Dr. Bailey has been named president of Arapahoe Community College. Mueller is moving to Cripple Creek to open a new bank.

Mrs. Yehle is the immediate past president of the Jefferson County League of Women Voters, a 300-member organization. Her League activities include work on reapportionment, housing, environmental issues, and local government. She also is active in 4-H, Westernaires, and PTA.

Mrs. Yehle, her husband Lynn—a geologist with the U.S. Geological Survey, and three children have lived in Lakewood 7 years. She was born in France of Swiss parents. She has a B.S. degree from the University of Wisconsin, taught school in Georgia, attended graduate school at George Washington University, and lived in Washington, D.C., 10 years.

Pearsall is president of Statitrol Corp. Statitrol manufactures electronic fire detectors and is the largest manufacturer in the United States of ionization fire detectors.

The company, which opened in Lakewood in March, 1970, will increase its production capacity four times when their current expansion is completed. Statitrol manufactures the first detector that meets the standards of the new uniform building code. The building code soon will require that such a device be placed in every new home and apartment constructed. Statitrol's expansion is planned to meet the increased need for these detectors.

Donations Received

The new Chamber office has received donations recently that are both useful and attractive.

Sears-Westland provided office furniture for the reception area. Levitz Furniture gave several bookcase units. Gorman Sales Co. donated two indoor weather stations.

Our thanks to all these firms for their consideration!
