French Language Learning

Duolingo has a strong conversational language focus, and appeals to visual learners with its game-based approach and graphics.

Mondly starts with conversational language training, offers speech recognition and a chat bot, providing immediate feedback to users. DRAWBACK: The free option limits access by requiring the user to wait 95 minutes before the next lesson.

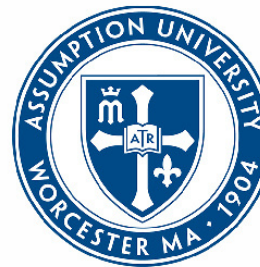

Lingoda provides access to a class of peers as assessed by comprehension level. It offers individualized lessons, focuses more on formal language training while incorporating speaking mannerisms and colloquial French. DRAWBACK: It offers a seven-day free trial, followed by a monthly subscription fee of approximately $9.50/ month.

Higher Education Consortium of Central Massachusetts (HECCMA)

HECCMA offers university courses for students. Courses focus on either formal or conversational language training depending on the class, but the price depends on the host university's tuition.

Less than 40 mins by foot from WPI...

If you're eager to delve more deeply into French or French Studies, the courses at these universities can become a part of your curriculum.

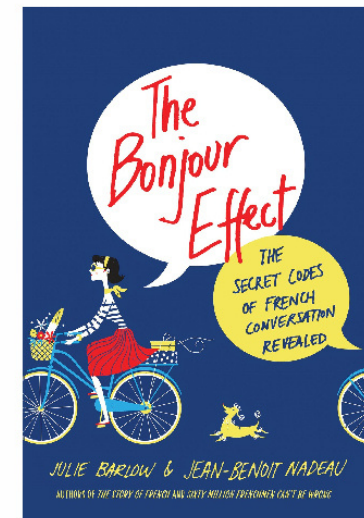

Additional Resources:

TV5Monde allows students access to learning French from France itself through video, articles, quizzes, and games, with no costs.

The service FrenchPod101 has a Youtube channel with videos on conversational and formal French language training. There are no immersive components but the YouTube channel is free and expansive.

The Bonjour Effect, which provides insight from two authors who have spent many years in France observing the local culture.
